IIS csp as a Default Page

Hi,

is it possible to integrate a csp file as the default page in the IIS 7?

I want reach <http://localhost/csp/sys/UtilHome.csp> over <http://localhost/>

Bill McCormick wrote in the GoogleGroup

"There was a known problem with this in the 5.0 release and has been fixed. It will never work out of the box. You have to define a CSP application of the name "/" - the config manager used to invalidate this but putting it in the cpf worked - I forget if that is fixed or not. After that it should all just work. Feel free to log an issue with support if it still fails in anyway. "

But I didn't understand this solution.
I hope someone can help me.

Best regards

Armin
