Code indentation and Go to declaration functionality

Some things I have noticed, which I am not sure are bugs or features to come.

1.) Go to type declaration (F3 or ctrl+click on a class/variable/method)

It doesn't work on object variables and methods

Where it does work, it opens the related class but it is not editable.

2.) There is no code indentation correction/ctrl+L ?

Is this planned?

I would very much prefer to have formatting even if it means losing some COS "functionality".
