
Question

Renee Cannon · Apr 22, 2016

Not able to modify configuration after RHEL install by Linux newbie

I followed the Documentation instructions to install Caché on my Linux box and it seems to be running fine except when I try to modify the configuration. I keep getting errors that a previous cache.cpf file (e.g., cache.cpf8503) cannot be opened. Is my Linux "user who owns instance" account deficient in Linux permissions?

#System Administration #Caché

Source

URL:<https://community.intersystems.com/post/not-able-modify-configuration-after-rhel-install-linux-newbie>