Question

Nicky Zhu · Jun 6, 2017

How to embed web page code in zen report?

Hi, guys,

I'm working on zen report to display an examination report for a client.

They stored order information in several tables. Examination findings and diagnosis were recorded in a html page and codes of the page was stored in another table. We need to put them together in one single report.

So far we can only read the html codes from that table which is a whole page since it start from label <html> and have <header>. We know that if we are using javascript we can display the page by assigning the codes to innerHtml property of an iframe object.

How can we do something like that in Zen Report? Or, if we can not, how can we display that page, starting from its html codes?

Thanks a lot.

#ZEN