Join InterSystems Developer Meetup on 17th of October in UK, Birmingham!

Hi, Community!

We are pleased to invite you to the InterSystems UK Developer Community Meetup on 17th of October!

The UK Developer Community Meetup is an informal meeting of developers, engineers, and devops to discuss successes and lessons learnt from those building and supporting solutions with InterSystems products.

An excellent opportunity to meet and discuss new solutions with like-minded peers and to find out what's new in InterSystems technology.

The Meetup will take place on 17th of October from 5pm to 8pm at The Belfry, Sutton Coldfield with food and beverages supplied.

Your stories are very welcome!

Here is the current agenda for the event:

Time	Session	Presenter

5:00 pm	Dependencies and Complexity	@John Murray
5:30 pm	Developing modern web applications with Caché, Web Components & JSON-RPC	@Sean Connelly
6:00 pm	Networking Coffee break
6:30 pm	Up Arrow Redux: Persistence as a Language Feature	@Rob Tweed
7:00 pm	First class citizens of the container world	@Luca Ravazzolo

~~If you want to be a presenter, please comment on this post below, we'll contact you.~~ All sessions are now filled.

Attendees are also invited to join us the following day for the UK Technology Summit - which is the annual gathering of the InterSystems community to discuss the technologies, strategies, and methodologies that will leverage what matters – competitive advantage and business growth.

Register for the Meet Up here (link to <http://www3.intersystems.com/its2017/registration>) and select UK Developer Community Meet Up.
