DC June 2018 Release

Hi, Community!

This is just a short announcement what we did to make life better on DC for June Release.

What's inside?

Better tables formatting, anti-spam, better email notifications and bug-fixes.

See the details inside!

Enhancement	Description
Enhancements on tables editing	We added items and a context menu which provide a way to add/remove rows and cols. See the gif.
Anti spam moderation	Now comments from new members first go for moderation every time - you will not see it and do not get the notification before it will be permitted. So spammers will not bother you with emails from DC anymore.
Articles, Questions and announcements	Now Members' page has sections which will show only articles, questions or announcements. E.g. here is @Steve Pisani articles, questions and all posts pages. <h3>Steve Pisani</h3>ViewPosts (24)Answers (18)Comments (52)Following (0)Devel<h3>User posts</h3>Articles (2)Questions (20)AnnouncementsAll (24)
"Mark as read" feature	If you are using the "New" filter, which shows you posts, which either you've never seen, or which were updated since you had seen it last time, you may find useful new "Mark as read" and "Mark all as read" if you want to mark posts as "read" without opening it. "Mark as read" works if you just click on a "New" green label.

Enhancement	Description

Also we added a few minor enhancements like:

- notifications to an author when his post was edited by moderator;
- Events for developers promotion block, which you see on the right side of every page now;
- simplified titles for email notifications which lets it group into conversations around one topic.

And we fixed a few annoying bugs, like:

- no email notifications for answers for some members;
- member mentioning bugs;
- and a lot of smaller bugs were fixed too!
