Who is still using the Polymetric Dashboard?

Hey Developer Community,

I wanted to reach out and ask the group who is still using the Polymetric Dashboard? You can read about it in this older Community article.

It was created as a sample that is designed to be customized by you, so it is a community supported tool vs. an official InterSystems supported tool. I've noticed that it hasn't been updated in a while and some of the dependencies have some potential security vulnerabilities. If you are using the tool internally, it isn't an issue, but was wondering if anybody who is using it has already updated their code with newer dependencies, etc?

So, is there interest from the community in updating it? Or testing it with IRIS?
