

Question

Jon Astle · Jun 13, 2019

Get additional file properties in windows

I am trying to pull the word count from Microsoft Word document into Cache. Is there anyway to get the values of the extended file properties without opening the word document? If I right click on a word document (Word does not need to be installed) I can see the additional properties that I want to reference however don't know how to access these without calling out to VBA or powershell.

#ObjectScript #Cache

Source URL: <https://community.intersystems.com/post/get-additional-file-properties-windows>