InterSystems Online Programming Contest Terms

These Competition Terms (the "Terms") apply to competitions and contests sponsored by InterSystems and its affiliates including coding contests relating to InterSystems products and technologies (each a "Contest"). Please read these Terms and all applicable Rules (defined below) carefully as they form a binding legal agreement between you and InterSystems Corporation ("InterSystems "), with principal office located at:

InterSystems Corporation
1 Memorial Drive Cambridge
MA, 02142 UNITED STATES

Our Contests vary, and InterSystems may post Contest-specific rules ("Rules") on the Contest websites on the Open Exchange (or linked therefrom) which, along with these Terms, become part of your agreement with InterSystems relating to the respective Contest. If there is a conflict between these Terms and the Rules, the Rules have priority.

Any decision or determination of any Contest administrator or judge, including interpretation and applications of the Terms and Rules, is final and binding in all matters relating to such Contest, to the extent allowed by law.

The Terms and Rules include information about how InterSystems may use your personal information when you create an " Open Exchange Profile " (as defined below) or participate in a Contest.

UNLESS YOU AGREE TO THE TERMS AND APPLICABLE RULES, YOU:

- (1) MUST NOT CREATE AN OPEN EXCHANGE PROFILE OR PARTICIPATE IN A CONTEST AND
- (2) ARE NOT ELIGIBLE TO RECEIVE PRIZES UNDER A CONTEST.

The words "include" and "including" are used in these Terms and any Rules to mean "including but not limited to."

ELIGIBILITY

VOID WHERE PROHIBITED. Each Contest is void in Crimea, Iran, North Korea, Quebec, Syria, and where prohibited by law.

NO PURCHASE NECESSARY TO ENTER OR WIN. You do not need to purchase any InterSystems product or service to enter or win a Contest.

INELIGIBLE INDIVIDUALS

You cannot participate in a Contest, will be immediately disqualified, and forfeit any related prize if you are or become:

1. a resident of Quebec;
2. a resident of Crimea, Iran, North Korea, Syria, or other US embargoed country;
3. ordinarily resident in a US embargoed country;
4. otherwise prohibited by applicable export controls and sanctions programs; or
5. a resident anywhere that a Contest is prohibited by law.

You cannot participate in a Contest if you are under the age of majority in your home state or nation, and in no case if you are less than sixteen (16) years of age at the time of registration for the Contest.

REQUIREMENTS TO ENTER AND RECEIVE A PRIZE

In order to enter a Contest, you must have:

1. access to the Internet,
2. a valid email address, and
3. a registration to any InterSystems online community required by these Terms or the applicable Contest Rules.

IF A CONTEST OFFERS A PRIZE

To coordinate the delivery of prizes, you must provide on InterSystems request:

1. your name,
2. phone number,
3. a valid mailing address, and
4. any other information InterSystems may need to award or send you such prize.

This information must be provided to InterSystems in English using ASCII characters only and will be used to award and send a prize to you. Use of non-ASCII characters may prevent or delay your receipt of an award or prize. InterSystems will endeavor to disperse prizes to all eligible prize recipients. You understand that there may be rare circumstances in which InterSystems is unable to disperse a prize due to administrative, carrier, or legal restrictions.

VERIFYING ELIGIBILITY

InterSystems reserves the right to verify your eligibility and to adjudicate any dispute at any time. You agree to provide InterSystems with any proof of eligibility requested by InterSystems, and your refusal or failure to provide such proof within ten (10) days of InterSystems request for such information will result in your disqualification from a Contest and forfeiture of any prizes.

COMMUNICATIONS

All communications between InterSystems and you, including over the Contest website or email communications, must be in English.

HOW TO ENTER A CONTEST

Open Exchange Profile Creation and Contest Participation.

To enter a Contest, you must first create a profile on the Open Exchange (" Open Exchange Profile "). Once your Open Exchange Profile has been created, you will be able to request registration for Contests. You will be required to provide additional information about yourself when registering for Contests.

Registration times are listed on the applicable Contest websites. YOU ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR DETERMINING THE CORRESPONDING TIME IN YOUR TIME ZONE. InterSystems may modify the opening and closing dates for registration by an informational notice on the applicable Contest website. You are responsible for frequently reviewing Contest details on the applicable Contest website.

All the data provided through the profile creation and registration process must be complete, correct, and provided in English.

APPLICATION NAMES AND NICKNAMES

InterSystems reserves the right to change or omit contestant nicknames or application names for purposes of publication on InterSystems websites, listserves, or other publication mechanisms particularly if they are, in InterSystems sole discretion, offensive, obscene, or violate the intellectual property rights of others. If InterSystems determines that you or your team ' s naming fails the above criteria, you and your team members, if applicable, may be disqualified from the Contest(s) for which you have registered.

CONTEST STRUCTURE

Each Contest consists of submission and voting stages as may be more fully described in the Rules posted on the applicable Contest website. Each Contest introduces one or more challenges for you to resolve (hereinafter, " Prompt(s) "). In each Contest, you will receive a score based on the success of your solution to the Prompt and the quality of code.

PROMPTS

In each Contest, you will be asked to resolve one or more problems in the Prompt. Based on your contest submission, votes from the judges or other judging participants (as described in the Contest Rules) will be cast to determine the winner(s) of the Contest. You will be able to access the Prompt(s) on the applicable Contest website or online the judging system when the Contest begins.

SUBMISSIONS

You must submit your applications through the Contest website or the specified online judging system.

Your submission must be in the format specified by the applicable Contest website or relevant online judging system, the applicable Rules, and these Terms (in order of decreasing priority). Deliberately obfuscated source code is not allowed.

You should submit your solutions with enough time remaining in each time period to avoid latency issues between your computer and InterSystems servers. Solutions will not be accepted after the applicable contest period expires.

MODIFYING A CONTEST

InterSystems may cancel or modify the structure and timing of a Contest for any or no reason at all. Generally, such modification will be limited to ensuring conformance or clarity of the Terms and applicable Rules or to prevent an unfair result. In the event of any such modification to a Contest, its rules, or these Terms, InterSystems shall post a notice of the changes conspicuously on the Open Exchange or the Contest website.
