New Podcast: Healthcare Interoperability, Part 2

As promised, here is Part 2 of our interview with Russ Leftwich! In this half, Adam Coppola talks with Russ about some of the InterSystems technologies that play a part in the concepts from Part 1, as well as some specific discussions about modern FHIR applications. After the interview with Russ, we were also joined by Jenny Ames to talk about the upcoming FHIR Dev Days. Check it out, and make sure to go subscribe to Data Points!

Have any topics you've been wanting to hear discussed on Data Points? Leave them in the comments and we can try to work those topics into upcoming episodes, if they fit well! We may also do a mailbag type of episode in the future, so all feedback or requests are welcomed!
