Discover new perspectives. Actively shape the future.

According to Statista, an enormous amount of 74 zettabytes of data will be generated by the end of 2021. Without the help of artificial intelligence (AI) and machine learning (ML) technologies, this massive flood of information cannot be meaningfully channeled and transformed into value-added business processes.

That's why you shouldn't miss the virtual InterSystems AI + ML Summit 2021, where you'll learn everything you need to know about the current state of AI and ML in general and AI + ML with InterSystems in particular. The spectrum of topics ranges from "hot" AI trends to concrete use cases in different industries and interactive workshops. In the first week, we focus on AI and ML in healthcare, while in the second week we look at the topics from an industry-agnostic standpoint.

So, remember:
