Why has my article been removed?

Hello there community,

I recently posted an article regarding a technological aspects that could boost the internet speeds of every individual/s personal work station in the given situation of the pandemic.

But, unfortunately my article is not published and I see it under draft.

Is there a particular reason for this please?

Have I missed something that needs to be followed?

Is that why the article that was published is now under the draft section?

I would like to know more on this please.

Regards.
