NEW: Certification Podcast Episode

Hi all - we just released the second episode of Season 2 for our Data Points podcast by Learning Services. This episode features a conversation with @Shane Nowack about InterSystems certification exams. If you're interested in how exams are developed, what's new with current and future exams, and how you could get involved with beta testing or writing questions, check it out! For more information, head over to <https://datapoints.intersystems.com>.
