Hacking Health Camp 2022 (day 3)

Hi guys!

The final day of the Hacking Health Camp 2022 in Strasbourg, France, is upon us and today we will see all the wonderful creations of the teams. They worked hard through the night and our teams onsite and online worked with them and answered their questions.

Our coaches met later on in the morning to discuss the progress and exchange the news.

UPDATE 4pm:

The teams have finished their presentations and the jury is deliberating.

UPDATE 7pm:

The prizes from sponsors and not only them were awarded. InterSystems gave its prize (together with the place on the stand at SANTEXPO, Paris, this year and free access to FHIR InterSystems) to the project Néo. @Laurent Viquesnel did the honors.

Of course, after the end of the official part, our team has met outside to get a breath of fresh air and celebrate the conclusion of the event.

And we congratulated again the team that won our prize!

And that's the conclusion of this incredible 3 day experience! We will return next year, to see more great teams and interesting projects!
