Passwordless mode for Dev Mode IRIS

Hi folks!

Instance: IRIS

Lately (maybe last 2-3 years) I develop with IRIS exclusively in docker - so iris instance I use for compiling and running IRIS apps is local.

And most every time I enter password for management portal and web-apps. The same password every time. Sounds familiar?

Is there an easy way to have a parameter in docker build for a "dev-mode" that will not ask me a password?
